

Giorgio Sassine is a Partner at Gavrilov & Brooks in Los Angeles, Chair of the firm's International Arbitration and Construction Disputes Practices, and an Adjunct Professor at Pepperdine Caruso School of Law, where he teaches the Theory of International Arbitration. He represents companies, investors, sovereign entities, founders, and high-net-worth individuals in high-stakes international arbitrations and cross-border disputes throughout California, the United States, and around the world.