

Juan Fandiño is a senior associate in Debevoise & Plimpton's International Dispute Resolution Group in New York. He represents corporations and sovereigns in commercial and investment arbitrations and related litigation across sectors including oil and gas, mining, construction, transportation, healthcare, and pension funds, as well as in disputes involving commercial agreements, joint ventures, and M&A transactions. Juan graduated first in his class from Universidad Nacional de Colombia and holds LL.M. degrees from Heidelberg University and NYU School of Law. He co-founded Colombian Very Young Arbitration Practitioners and serves as a Mentorship Co-Chair of Young ITA.