

Andreas Schapowalow is an international arbitration attorney at CMS based in Silicon Valley, California. He is qualified in Germany, England & Wales, and California and specializes in complex cross-border disputes, with a particular focus on matters involving Europe, Asia, and the United States. His practice covers a broad range of sectors, including construction, energy, infrastructure, pharmaceutical, and technology, as well as commercial and post-M&A disputes, in arbitrations conducted under major institutional rules, including the ICDR, ICC, SIAC, LCIA, and HKIAC. Andreas previously practiced at leading international law firms in Germany and South Korea.